The series is produced by Cosmos-Maya Studios and Viacom 18.[5] It is adapted from the classic comic strip Lotpot. It was premiered on 16 October 2012. It focuses on two friends, Motu and Patlu, living in a fictional town called Furfuri Nagar, however later in the series they live in another fictional city known as Modern City. In 2019, Motu Patlu and their friends were touring at Europe. Later in 2021, Motu Patlu and their friends started touring at Indian Places. Nowadays they live in New Modern City. Motu Patlu is directed by Suhas Kadav and produced by Deepa Sahi and Anish J.S. Mehta. The show's theme song, "Motu Aur Patlu Ki Jodi", is composed by Sandesh Shandilya and sung by Sukhwinder Singh. It is one of the most popular children's show in India.[5] Plot The story revolves around Motu and Patlu, two friends living in Furfuri Nagar,[6] and their daily activities. The show focuses on the two landing themselves in trouble and comical situations, later being rescued only by luck. Samosas are Motu's favourite food, and he frequently tries to steal them from a small shopkeeper who sell's tea and Samosas, named Chaiwala who makes the best samosas in the town. Motu is mainly the black sheep of the duo, unintentionally creating problems due to his incompetency while Patlu is the smart one that always tries to stop him. Recurring characters included Ghasitaram, Dr. Jhatka and Chingum. Ghasitaram occasionally misdirects and swindles them by making them try Dr. Jhatka's vast repertoire of quirky gadgets and gizmos. After Motu eats samosas, he temporarily gains more energy and strength than he normally has. Motu Patlu lives in a hut. In the newer version they live in a flat called Furfuri Apartment. The main antagonist of the series is a criminal named "John the Don" (briefly and very famously known as John) who is accompanied by his two big but weak and dumb henchmen, Number 1 and Number 2 who steal things, steal most of the people's money and jewellery and create havoc in Furfuri Nagar. John intends to become a don, but his plans always fail due to the heroic actions of Motu and Patlu, who trap and expose him and his plans tit for tat. In some episodes John tries to harm them by stealing Dr. Jhatka's newest gadget and using it against Motu and Patlu, but they eventually manage to give John a taste of his own medicine. In the later episodes, they started to live in Modern City, where some new characters were introduced. Characters This section possibly contains original research. (August 2020) (Learn how and when to remove this template message) Main characters Motu: Motu is a fat man who serves as one of the central protagonists of this show. He loves to eat samosas which increase his power drastically, giving him the ability to defeat his normally superior rivals. Samosas also increase his speed, strength, vision, and intelligence, also allowing him to lift boulders and vehicles. Motu's best friend is Patlu. He often lands in trouble because of his clumsy actions. He is always looking for the easiest way to earn money, have fun and to eat a lot of samosas. Sometimes he gets over-expressive while celebrating his victory and can do something very foolish, like bringing back a pirate into the present who they had sent back to the past. He is also shown bragging about things he has never done. He is a good-natured man who wants to help others, unfortunately he can be easily fooled by them too, especially John. Patlu once said that he is not a fool, he is a simple man. Although he is not skilled in any job, he tries to work with Patlu as constables, ward boys, cleaners, delivery boys, etc. but he creates troubles and gets fired from those companies/organisations in which he and Patlu worked. He has baldness on his head but has hair next to his ears. He also has a moustache. He wears a red tunic with a blue (mostly black) vest, yellow pajamas and shoes. His talking accent is influenced by Dara Singh. He is depicted as extremely afraid of mice. In the movie, Motu Patlu in Alien World, he was separated from his father when he was 6–7 years old. His father is believed to have been abducted by aliens from the planet Axar during his search for extraterrestrial life forms in the universe. His dialogue is "Khaali pet mere dimaag ki batti nahi chalti tum hi kuch karo!"(which means "You do something, I can't think on an empty stomach"). In the newer episodes, his tunic features maroon vertical stripes. Patlu: Patlu is a thin man who serves as one of the show's central protagonists. He is often portrayed as the smartest guy in the city however, he often gets into a lot of trouble with Patlu. He dislikes samosas but likes to read the newspapers. It is also believed that his grandfather was a boxing champion and had a recipe for procuring extraordinary strength. This is later discovered to be the case by Motu. He is not strong. He can beat John when he is alone but is beaten by strong criminals or John's goons, especially Number 1. He has a bald head and a braid. He wears a yellow tunic with orange leggings, brown-framed glasses, and brown shoes. His dialogues are "Ideal" and "Motu kuch karo!" "Motu, do something!," he says it whenever Motu causes troubles. In Modern City and Europe Tour episodes, his outfit changes to a yellow tunic with a curved blue stripe on the left and blue leggings. Inspector B. Chingum: B. Chingum is a police inspector. He believes that no criminal can escape from him, however he manages to catch them mostly by the help of Motu and Patlu. A Rajinikanth devotee with a strong South Indian accent, Chingum is a solicitous police officer. He takes pride in the fact that no criminal can ever get away. He drives both a green police motorcycle and a police jeep. Chingum is sometimes helped by two constables, Hera and Pheri. From the movie "Motu Patlu: Double Trouble", we found out that he is also married. He has a mustache that reaches the bottom of his jaw and brown silky hair that reaches his nape. Chingum wears a khaki police uniform with stars and badges decorating it and a name tag, with a police cap. He also often wears sunglasses. In the older episodes, he wears a blue handkerchief with white dots on his left wrist, which was replaced by a Smart Watch GT08 in the latest version of the show. When he says his dialogues he shoots upwards, the coconuts fall on his head and makes him fall on the ground. He can shoot coconuts from anywhere, even from Antarctica and the moon. In some episodes he is shown that he occasionally orders coconuts to fall on enemies, to stop Motu Patlu, etc. He likes to eat South Indian food such as idli, dosa, sambar, vada and coconut chutney. He has a new police station in the new episodes. On the European tour he drives a green scooter. Ghasitaram: Ghasitaram is cowardly and often claims to have twenty years of experience in various stuff but only a only very few of the experiences are useful to others. He is referred to as Bengali; He hails from Ghatat located in West Midnapore in West Bengal. Like Dr. Jhatka, his so-called "experiences of 20 years" often land other people, especially Motu and Patlu, in trouble. However, Motu and Patlu do call on him for help in certain episodes. He is also the lab assistant of Dr. Jhatka. Chasiai also helps Dr. Jhatka with experiments and coaxing Motu and Patlu to test Dr. Jhatka's inventions. His design is a parallel version of Patlu. He wears a cobalt blue tunic, purple dhoti, dark brown vest, and shoes of the same color. Later when they started to live in Modern City and when they started touring Europe, he wears a peach coloured tunic, an olive green vest, and brown leggings. Doctor Jhatka: Doctor Jhatka is an eccentric scientist. In some older episodes he was shown as a dentist. His accent is like Sardar, so he is referred to as Punjabi. His invention are usually very impressive but are of little use to the townspeople. Often gets someone in trouble. He drives a yellow flying car. Jhatka is known by his reduced hairline, green shirt, violet necktie, and blue jeans and olive strapped black shoes. His grandfather is shown to be a millionaire searching for the whereabouts of his grandson in Furfuri Nagar; His design is a parallel version of Motu. He sometime tests his gadgets on Motu and Patlu without telling them before hand which causes them problems. This often leads to him getting beaten up by Motu and Patlu. He could be beaten by Number 1. In some movies and almost all episodes, Motu Patlu and others beat him up for not reminding them about his gadgets, especially not to remind them of his flying helmet. In the newer episodes, he wears a yellow shirt with white floral oriental prints, a green necktie, a violet check blazer and brown pants which was soon replaced by a pair of denim trousers. Inside his lab, he wears a pair of goggles, a white shirt, a pair of turquish blue pants, and a pair of boots. He wears the same clothes as the scientists wear. He has a red flying car on the Europe trip.[7] Boxer: Boxer is Motu's neighbour, he is an aggressive man. Boxer wears red boxing gloves, a white tank top and red shorts with vertical yellow stripes. The text "BOXER" is written in red with an orange outline on the back of his shirt. Sometimes, he also wears a black shirt with jeans. His boxing coach is Mr. Thakur. Boxer wants to help his neighbours but becomes angry and ends up beating them up instead. He is very strong and can break through walls and punches people so hard that they go into the clouds. He is not that fast and can be fooled. He could be beaten by John when he is alone but is beaten by strong criminals or John's goons, especially Number 1. He has a bald head and a braid. He wears a yellow tunic with orange leggings, brown-framed glasses, and brown shoes. His dialogues are "Ideal" and "Motu kuch karo!" "Motu, do something!," he says it whenever Motu causes troubles. In Modern City and Europe Tour episodes, his outfit changes to a yellow tunic with a curved blue stripe on the left and blue leggings. John: John serves as the main antagonist of the show. John's ambition is to become a Don. His dialogue is "Mwah-ha-ha-ha! John banega Don,John banea Don!". But his plans always fail very badly and thus end up in him getting arrested or being taunted by other people. He says some short poems. Contrary to normal thieves, he is not afraid of Chingum but is instead afraid of Motu and Patlu. He is plump, and short in size and faces discrimination for that. He is a mastermind in thievery and also has a pistol. He can fool Motu and other people. He is also very good at mimicry and disguise. But he is less clever than Patlu. He wears a blue dress shirt with dark blue floral prints, yellow undershirt, brown belt, dark blue pants with blue cuffs, and brown shoes. He has three gold chains around his neck, J is written on his locket and eight rings on all his fingers except the thumb. He always likes to rob money from banks and jewelry from jewelry shops. He has a van. According to the episode "Motu the Radio Jockey", John was interested in stealing since childhood, and started stealing from someone's home, then stealing chocolate from a girl, then food from restaurants, etc. In the newer episodes, he wears a blue shirt with multiple patterns, a yellow undershirt, purple pants, and blue boots and he has a house to live in the forest where he lives. He can hide his stolen money and stolen jewelry in his own house. Number 1: Number 1 is John's goon who serves as one of the supporting antagonists. He likes and appreciates John's short poems but John beats him up in return. He has brilliant ideas to trap Motu and Patlu but whenever he tells him John says that his idea is bad and beats him, saying that he has a better plan but repeats the same one. Though he respects John, he is always the first to get beaten by him. He wears a blue French-style striped shirt, magenta trousers, and a yellow ascot tie. In the later episodes, he wears a green zig-zag shirt, a red ascot tie, a red beret, and dark brown shoes. Number 2: Number 2 is John's goon who rarely speaks. He has a dark mark on his one eye and a bandage on his oversized nose. However, in the new version, there is no dark mark on one of his two eyes and no bandage on his nose. He has dark brown hair, wears a cyan striped shirt, aquamarine ascot tie, and brownish-orange pants. In the later version, he wears a purple striped shirt, a light green ascot tie, green pants, and red shoes. Chaiwala: Chaiwala owns a tea shop near Motu's house but his real home is never revealed. He makes Motu's favorite samosas and Patlu's favorite tea in the city, which Motu steals from the shop in the older episodes. Although Chaiwala does not like his food being stolen, he occasionally rewards Motu by exempting him from paying the money Motu owes him or even promising him more free samosas when he saves him from other residents of Furfuri Nagar. Motu sometimes gets beaten up for not paying Chaiwala. He wears a white undershirt and lungi with a towel over his neck, which he occasionally uses to wipe off his sweat. Later in Modern City, he wears a blue-gold chef's hat and uniform and he has a new tea shop. Recurring Khopadi: Khopadi is a goon in season 10, 11 and 12, who always tries to defeat Motu Patlu. He was first introduced in the movie "Motu Patlu Dino Invasion". He is the Don of Modern City, his vehicle is an ambulance. Khopadi has more assistants but their names have not been mentioned. Sometimes Khopadi stands on the ambulance while one of his two assistants drives the ambulance. The episode he first appeared in was called Trapped in Tower. He also appeared in some of Motu Patlu's Europe Tour Episodes. Pappu-Haddi: They are two assistants of Khopadi. Skull: He is the elder brother of Khopadi and made his first appearance in the movie "Motu Patlu Dino Invasion" as a famous hunter of Africa. He likes to catch animals. He also appeared in some of Motu Patlu's Europe Tour Episodes. Commissioner Bubblegum: Bubblegum is Chingum's father and the police commissioner of Furfuri Nagar and adjoining villages. He once got impressed with Motu and Patlu and even recruited them in the police as Havaldars, but when he discovered they were less capable than he thought, he became angry and with them neighbouring cities around, such as Kamalpur, Sursuri Nagar and Modern City. Despite being a small town it has its own airport. It is not clearly mentioned where the town is exactly located, but most of the vehicles carry license plate numbers starting with "MH", which stands for the state of Maharashtra. The local police force wears uniforms of the Maharashtra Police. However, in the later episodes, they had moved to Modern City for unknown reasons. A quick trailer showcasing new episodes mentions the differences in their new setting. In the later episodes, they were on a trip to countries of Europe.
